Endless space 2 custom faction guide

the main factions. When creating a custom group, the customs are available for purchase with 80 points; Different specialties will be available normally allowed to purchase different expenses depending on their strength, and some negative attributes have negative speciality value, maximum positive attributes. While most of the attributes in the group editor are available in any case, there are some that are specific restrictions or conditions. If there are any conditions in a property, it will be mentioned under the impact of its speciality because there are only a few that are conditions, but the limitations with restrictions are far more common and different, and thus these restrictions will not be determined. Generally, it is impossible to take two attributes that are against each other. For example, customgroups cannot quickly be able to make passengers special, which increases the speed of unit movement, and the quality of slow passengers, with movement speed reduced at the same time, because they will only cancel each other out. A less obvious example is that a group with the speciality of diplomatic pressure is not able to achieve, because the failure of being in a state of peace or unity from the Pitiless property will be against the ability of diplomatic pressure to force peace or unity. An extension of this is that a group with appetite for soil speciality can not take any symptoms involved in eating, and a group with the science-phobaq speciality can take no signs of including science. Also, all the symptoms will be displayed with the main faction that they come from. If instead a property is labeled as custom, it is a property that does not appear in any of the main factions, but is available for use in creating custom groups. Some of their specific specific symptoms also have 2 or more levels, each of increasing intensity. For these type of symptoms, you must have level 1 of the speciality to select level 2, and if there is one then the level 2 must be the level 2 to select level 3. High level samywill change the lower level. Generally, upgrading one of their symptoms from level 1 to level 2 will double the effect and price, and both of the same amount will increase to upgrade levels 2 to 3 levels. For example, traders give 1 cost 8 points and + 10% on cities, traders 2 costs 16 and + 20% traders 3 costs 24 and gives + 30%. The main property of this group is along with the relationship [edit].
